CITY TOURS

Automotive History Experiences from City Tour Operators

The MotorCities National Heritage Area, a non-profit organization dedicated to preserving Michigan's automotive and labor heritage, is partnering with five Detroit-area based tour operators to offer public tours.

The partnerships continue a program that originally launched in 2019 to serve the 16-county National Heritage Area.

Tour experiences available vary from traditional walking tours to pedaling a bicycle - all while visiting key automotive and labor historical sites and learning the story of how the region put the world on wheels.

"We're excited to continue partnering with these companies to offer additional tour options and bring more of our amazing automotive heritage to both metro Detroit residents and out-of-town tourists alike," said Shawn Pomaville-Size, MotorCities' executive director.

The tour operators selected offer the following experiences:

City Institute - MotorCities Auto Heritage New Center and Dearborn Walking Tours. On the New Center walking tour, guests will experience the past, present and future of the Detroit area, going back in time with a visit inside the Ford Piquette Plant Museum and the chance to speak with some of the innovators who now call these neighborhoods home.

The Dearborn walking tours will show how the past and present are interwoven, and see the innovations and adaptations of this important city. For 2024, the New Center tours are offered on June 22 and August 24, and the Dearborn tour are offered on July 27. For more information, see thecityinstitute.com/public-tours.

City Tour Detroit - Becoming the Motor City: A Timeline of Detroit's Auto History Paul Vachon, author of the Reedy Press book of the same name, guides these tours offered monthly on June 22, July 21, Aug 24, and Sept 29. The 3-hour walking tour will also utilize the Detroit People Mover and QLine.

For more information, see citytourdetroit.com/.

Michigan Labor History Society - Detroit Labor History Tours. This group offers a free two-hour bus tour in June that drives by the Ford Rouge plant, site of the 1932 Ford Hunger March and the 1937 "Battle of the Overpass" with stops at the Ford Piquette Plant Museum, the Motown Museum and the "Transcending" labor legacy landmark in Hart Plaza.

A narrated one-mile walking tour of downtown Detroit is also available. For more information, visit

Russell Brothers City Tours - Customized Automotive History Tours. Get on board for a fun-filled tour of automotive landmarks in the city of Detroit. Your guide, Emmy-winning TV and radio personality Greg Russell, takes guests to places they may know and some sites they might not.

If guests have particular sites they'd like to see, just let Greg know. The tours are informative, insightful and most importantly, fun!

Wheelhouse Detroit - Auto Heritage Bicycle Tour On this 15-mile tour, guests will discover how Detroit became the center of industry. The tour takes in the Globe Building, Dequindre Cut, Packard Plant, the GM Detroit-Hamtramck (Pole-town) Assembly Plant, Milwaukee Junction, New Center (old GM Headquarters and Fisher Building), and TechTown, where we will learn how industry is evolving with advanced technology. Tours are available on June 23, July 28, August 25, September 22, and October 13.
